“Oh, the depth of the riches and wisdom and knowledge of God!” Paul exclaims in today’s Epistle. Today’s Psalm, too, takes up the triumphant note of joy and thanksgiving. Why? Because in the Gospel, the heavenly Father reveals the mystery of His kingdom to Peter. With Peter, we rejoice that Jesus is the anointed Son promised to David, the one prophesied to build God’s temple and reign over an everlasting kingdom (see 2 Samuel 7). Read More:

The Saint Who Beat Scrupulosity

By the turn of the year 1546, Martin Luther had been suffering decades of ill health, including vertigo, tinnitus, kidney and bladder stones, and, near the end, heart disease. Some scholars believe that his laundry list of internal complaints likely was exacerbated by the stress of disputes with the Vatican over his heresies and with other Reformers he believed were engaging in heresies..”Read More:

What spiritual lessons can we learn from COVID-19?

Even with the great capacity for adaptation that the human being is endowed with, what we have experienced this year has not stopped surprising us. With regard to the pandemic we are experiencing, many come to my mind. Read More:
